WHAT WE DO

Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design

Crime is less likely to occur if the bad actor has a chance of being seen. It also has a positive aspect in that we often feel more comfortable and feel safer if we can see or be seen. This is a major aspect of delivering on preventing crime through environmental design. We can provide site assessments and make recommendations based on the outcome of the property assessment. This same approach is key for retail loss prevention measures. Deploying strategies to help minimize loss and theft.

Situational Awareness

Deliver trainings on identifying threats and potential hazards ahead of time. Moving the trainee out of the victim role and into the victor mindset. Having a Left of Boom approach mitigates having to be reactionary and provides tools to being more proactive in our day to day lives while at home or in the workplace.

Emergency Preparedness & Standard Operating Procedures

We are experienced in creating emergency action plans and active threat trainings for the workplace. We can also create, roll out, and ensure proper execution of certain Standard Operating Procedures as it relates to emergency and crisis situations.
